

XP Core Values

Monil Sakhidas – Communication

Monil practised this XP core value all throughout the project. He took the responsibility of looking for the overall working of the project. He took the responsibility of providing appropriate communication from one team member to all other team members. He made sure to maintain a proper workflow while working on the project. This made us conscious of our progress after each sprint.

Parshv Patel – Simplicity

Parshv assisted this XP core value during the project. He was responsible for assigning tasks to each member. He made sure that the tasks are completed within the deadline. He also made sure that the tasks were completed by maintaining simplicity without exaggerating and binding to the requirements. He also ensured that the project is scalable and reliable. Despite the functionalities being complex Parshv assured that the project works seamlessly. This XP core value made us sensible of our progress after each sprint.

Het Brahmbhatt – Feedback

Het assisted this XP core value. He took the responsibility of providing feedback in each task and ensured that the feedback was taken seriously. He kept a note of the feedback between each sprint and made sure that the previous sprints were improved. He made sure that the tasks are prioritized according to the deadline and ensured to give proper feedback ahead of time so that the improvements can be done before the deadline and the time taken for each task can also be reduced.

Priyansh Patel – Courage

This XP core value was assisted by Priyansh. He always assisted us with the right way to solve a problem. He made sure that we don't waste time on useless things and manage our time according to the priority of tasks. He also made sure to work on the issues raised while doing the project and ensured to accept and act on the feedback that was received from other team members. He made sure to consider all the possibilities while handling any problem.
